Research awards, research honors and major stipendiary support for research

Honors & Awards

2011 I received the Royal Academy of the Humanistic Sciences' Rettig Prize (Kungliga vitterhetsakademiens Rettigs pris) with the motivation: "for her internationally recognized research in philosophy with a special focus on issues in metaphysics and ontology".

2019 I was gifted a festschrift for my 50th birthday (Maurinian Truths, T. Hansson-Wahlberg and R. Stenwall, eds., Stockholm: Thales). The book contained 18 contributions from 20 philosophers.

Major grants:

2017-2019 PI for the multi-person project Metaphysical Explanation (7.715 000 SEK (approximately 640 000 GBP)), financed by Riksbankens Jubileumsfond. Project website here: <https://metaphysicalexplanation.wordpress.com/>

2012-2015 PI for the one-person project Complex Wholes (1.240 000 SEK (approximately 103 000 GBP)), financed by The Swedish Research Council.

2009-2012 PI for the one-person project Ontological Justification – From Appearance to Reality (1. 740 000 SEK (approximately 144 500 GBP), financed by Riksbankens Jubileumsfond.

* For the projects Ontological Justification and Metaphysical Explanation I submitted identical applications for funding to Riksbankens Jubileumsfond and to The Swedish Research Council. In both cases, both applications were successful and I had to choose which funding agency to go with.

Minor grants:

Through the years, I have successfully applied for a number of comparatively speaking minor grants, the larger of which have been for financing the organization of workshops and conferences. Among the bigger minor grants I have received are:

- | | |
|------|---|
| 2018 | Hultengrens fond för filosofi : 55 500 SEK (approximately 4 700 GBP) to organize a meeting with the Nordic Network in Metaphysics. |
| 2017 | The Swedish Research Council Conference Grant : 141 800 SEK (approximately 12 000 GBP) to organize a conference on metaphysical explanation. |
| 2017 | Hultengrens fond för filosofi : 23 726 SEK (approximately 2000 GBP) to organize a workshop on transformative experience. |
| 2016 | The Swedish Research Council Conference Grant : 95 000 SEK (approximately 8 000 GBP) to organize a conference on Metaphysical Explanation. |
| 2016 | Anders Karitz fond : 20 000 SEK (approximately 1 700 GBP) to organize a conference on metaphysical explanation. |

- 2016 Wilhelm och Maria Lundgrens Vetenskapsfond: 30 000 SEK (approximately 2 500 GBP) to organize a conference on metaphysical explanation.
- 2014 Hultengrens fond för filosofi: 120 000 SEK (approximately 10 000 GBP) to organize a conference on social complexes/social ontology.
- 2006 The Swedish Research Council Conference Grant: 33 000 SEK (approximately 2 800 GBP) to organize a conference in metametaphysics.

Apart from the above grants, I have applied for and received external as well as ‘internal’—either departmental or faculty-level—funding for longer or shorter research visits from academics not from Gothenburg:

Aug-Dec 2018 research stay for prof. Kelly Trogdon (Virginia Tech), funded by internal departmental funding (funding included paying for a replacement for Trogdon (at Virginia Tech) to do his teaching while he visited Gothenburg, plus travel and accommodation for four months).

Oct. 2018, 1-week stay as a guest teacher (teaching a national graduate course on the theme ‘God(s) and Fundamentality’) for ass. prof. Ricki Bliss (Lehigh University). Internal departmental funding (funding covered travel, accommodation and a remuneration for the teaching).

May 2017, 2-week research stay for prof. Einar Duenger Bohn (Agder University). Internal departmental funding (funding covered travel and accommodation for two weeks).

Jan 2014-June 2014 research stay for prof. Arianna Betti (Amsterdam University). Funded via the Gothenburg University guest professor scheme (the so-called Marks 2 professorship) (funding covered salary, travel and accommodation).

Sep 2013-Jan 2014 research stay for prof. Benjamin Schnieder (Hamburg University). Funded by Riksbankens Jubileumsfond, as part of their Swedish-German program of research awards for scientific cooperation (funding covered salary, travel and accommodation).

Teaching

Courses taught:

1st Cycle Studies: Introduction to theoretical philosophy; Metaphysics; History of Philosophy; Epistemology; Philosophy of Science; Philosophy of Mind; Informal Logic; Formal Logic; The Philosophy of David Hume; Contemporary Classics (discussion seminar); Themes from Contemporary Theoretical Philosophy (discussion seminar); Elective reading courses (on Epistemic Injustice, Transformative Experience, Bradley's Regress, Metametaphysics, Metaphysical Explanation, Tropes, Infinite Regress Arguments) (for third semester students only).

I have been also led seminars on how to write a BA-thesis and been responsible for organizing the students' thesis writing generally (matching of students with supervisors other than myself, administration of defense of BA-theses, etc.). I have also supervised the writing of (shortish) papers as well ca. 10 BA-theses since 2012 (I have not kept good track, but I estimate having supervised 30-40 in total).

2nd Cycle Studies: Elective reading courses (on Epistemic Injustice, Transformative Experience, Bradley's Regress, Metametaphysics, Metaphysical Explanation, Tropes, Infinite Regress Arguments); Seminar on how to write an MA-thesis; Seminar where students discuss drafts of their MA-thesis. I have also supervised five MA-theses since 2012 (I estimate having supervised 10-15 MA-theses in total).

I have also developed, taught (or co-taught), and examined the following courses (the 2nd and 3rd open for students in philosophy nationally, and intended for PhD-students as well as 2nd Cycle students):

- 2015 Metaphysical Explanation (co-taught with Daniel Giberman in Gothenburg)
- 2007 Metaphysics and Science: From Laws of Nature to Dispositions (co-taught with J. Persson and R. Stenwall, in Lund)
- 2006 Metaphysical theories of properties (in Amsterdam, invited by Professor Arianna Betti, then at Vrije University)

3rd Cycle Studies: Apart from the 2007, 2015 and 2020 courses above, which were open to PhD-students as well as 2nd Cycle students, I have co-taught and developed the following courses intended for PhD-students not in philosophy:

- 2010 Relativisms (for PhD-students in the humanities), Lund University (with J. Brännmark).
- 2003 Philosophy of Science for PhD-students (for students in economics/social science), Växjö University (with Johannes Persson).

I have also organized/administered (and, in the case of the Zalta-course, examined) the following national graduate courses in philosophy: (i) Against Facts, led by prof. Arianna Betti (2014), (ii) A Crash Course in Axiomatic Metaphysics, led by prof. E. N. Zalta (2016), and (iii) God(s) and Fundamentality, led by ass. prof. Ricki Bliss (2018).

2018 I (with Susanna Radovic) developed a (mandatory) one-day workshop on Pedagogical and Research Practice for PhD-students for the department's doctoral students. I taught the workshop Dec -18, and will teach it again Dec -19.

2020 (Oct 5-7), I am responsible for one day of teaching in the Düsseldorf summer school on Inductive Metaphysics: Laws and Explanations in Metaphysics and Science.

University Pedagogy Courses:

I have taken three university pedagogy courses: (i) University Pedagogy—introduction; (ii) University Pedagogy—continuation; (iii) Postgraduate Supervision. All courses were taken at Lund University 2004-2005.

Supervision of research work and postgraduate studies:

To date, I have supervised or am supervising the following doctoral students:

Tobias Hansson Wahlberg, now docent in theoretical philosophy at Lund University.

Thesis: Objects in Time: Studies of Persistence in B-time
(<http://portal.research.lu.se/ws/files/5812281/1586252.pdf>)
Finished December 2009.

Ylwa Sjölin Wirling, now holding a postdoc position in the project "Towards a Methodology of Modal Modeling" at KTH Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm. Also the recipient of a three-year International Postdoc by the Swedish Research Council, to pursue the project "Epistemic Value Pluralism", partly at the University of Manchester (working with Helen Beebe).

Thesis: Modal Empiricism Made Difficult: An Essay in the Meta-Epistemology of Modality
(https://gupea.ub.gu.se/bitstream/2077/57967/1/gupea_2077_57967_1.pdf)
Finished January 2019.

Maximilian Zachrau

Thesis: Process Ontology
Ongoing (since Sep 2018, expected to finish fall 2022).

Matteo Iammarone

(second supervisor) 2021-2022

Susanna Salmijärvi

Thesis: Social Ontology for Abstract Entities

2012-2013, I temporarily served as the assistant supervisor (mainly in charge of the administrative) for Susanna Andersson (main supervisor Peter Pagin, professor of theoretical philosophy at Stockholm University) and Stellan Petersson (main supervisor Dag Westerståhl, professor emeritus of theoretical philosophy at Stockholm University).

I have also acted as informal mentor/supervisor for Jan Willem Wieland (Vrije University, Amsterdam), who visited Lund University for a period while working on his PhD-thesis (finished 2013). This spring, I will do the same for Roque Molina (Charles University, Prague).

Postdoctoral Supervision: I have served as mentor/supervisor for postdoctoral researchers Pawel Rojek (Jagellonian University, Crakow), Daniel Giberman (now at University of Texas at Arlington), and Andrew Brenner (now at Hong Kong university) during their research stays in Gothenburg (Giberman, Brenner) and Lund (Rojek).
